

AXA appoints a new Group Executive Vice-President for Procurement

Paris, May 6, 2010

Since April 1, Régine Lucas is appointed Executive Vice-President, Procurement for the AXA Group. She has taken over from Alain Page-Lécuyer, who retired on March 31, 2010, and will report to Véronique Weill, AXA Group's Chief Operating Officer and Executive Committee member.

Régine Lucas will oversee €6 billion of procurement (2009), with the main portfolios concerning purchases for insurance claim settlement-related services, IT, consulting, marketing and general expenses.

Régine Lucas joined AXA in 2009 as VP General Expenses and IT for Group Procurement, after several years working for Danone, where she held various Procurement and Marketing positions. She began her career at Mars, working successively in the sales teams, management control and purchasing.

Régine Lucas graduated from ESCEM (Ecole Supérieure de Commerce de Tours).
